THE CITY BURYING DEAD

Municipality Engages in the Undertaking Business to Relieve Situation.—Graves Dug After Dark Because of Labor Shortage.

This city has at last been compelled to embark in the undertaking business owing to the excessive death rate here. The city, however, is not opposing the undertakers but is simply assisting in the work of burying the dead. This is being done under the supervision of the health department. ment.

In cases where persons have been unable to secure the services of an undertaker the health department has taken charge of the cases. They are having boxes built and and the bodies are buried as soon as convenient.

The city also is digging the graves. They are being dug every night and in some instances burials have been made at night. The supply of men available to dig graves during the day is not sufficient to keep up with the large number of deaths.

To Buy or not to Buy is Not the Question—Buy.

GRATIFYING RESPONSE

Charitably Inclined Citizens Contribute $3,500 toward Funds of $5,000 Needed to Give Free Medical Attention to Those Unable to Pay.

The following statement was given out this afternoon by the Influenza committee:

The result of the first day's canvass of the Influenza Committee of the local Red Cross Chapter was highly gratifying, about thirty-five hundred dollars having been collected.

In addition to a temporary hospital at the Westminister Building which will accommodate about sixty patients a diet kitchen has been established at the Young People's Building by a number of ladies, of the Southern Methodist Church, co-operating with members of the Alexandria Chapter of the Red Cross, and a systematic canvass is being conducted to locate those suffering from Influenza who need medical attention, food and supplies.

The City has a big task on hand, and many of our new citizens are in dire need, and our merchants and others have profited largely from these citizens most of whom have been earning good wages.

It is therefore not only our plain duty to aid them, but it would be a disgrace for this City not to properly care for these citizens in their hour of need and distress. No doubt the treatment which they receive at this time will cause many of them to decide whether or not they will permanently locate in Alexandria.

A strict account will be kept of all disbursements and no money will be wasted.

The situation confronting us today is unparalleled in the history of the City, but it can be successfully met by the active co-operation of all classes of citizens.

It is earnestly hoped that all who have not already contributed will send their contributions at once either to Gardner L. Boothe, Chairman, or to Taylor Burke, Treasurer of the Influenza Committee.

The following contributions are gratefully acknowledged:

Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation. Cots, mattresses, hospital equipment, etc.; M. A. Ahern, $200; E. L. D. $200; C. C. Smoot and Sons Company $100; William B. Smoot, $100; Robert S. Jones 100; H. R. SELL $94,000 BONDS

House to House Canvass Made Yesterday by 150 Citizens—Results Gratifying—Campaign Will End Saturday—All Urged to Buy at once and Help Alexandria "Go Over Top"

A total of $94,000 of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds were sold yesterday afternoon as a result of the house to house canvass made by nearly 150 citizens.

This is considered a good showing in view of the fact that there is an epidemic of influenza prevailing here Few persons there were who "turned down" the canvassers and a majority of the bonds sold were of the smaller denomination, being principally of the $50 and $100 variety. Those who would have bought bonds of higher denomination already had given their orders and some even gave second orders for bonds to help the cause along.

Members of the committee in charge of which Robert S. Jones was chairman were well pleased with the result of the afternoon's canvass.

This is the last week of the drive and all persons who have not yet purchased bonds are urged to do so without delay.

Every citizen of Alexandria should purchase, at least, one bond. If every citizen does his duty Alexandria will "go over the top" before the ending of the campaign Saturday night. The allotment for this city is $625,300.

Subscriptions reported from the banks to the Liberty Loan Committee to Saturday morning amounted to $234,000 making a grand total of $328,000.

The colored citizens committee returned $1,415 in cash.

GRAND OPERA SINGER DIES.

Genia De Agarioff, Noted Baritone. Victim of Pneumonia at Humphreys.

Genia de Agarioff, prominent grand opera singer of New York, about 30 years old, died yesterday at Camp Humphreys, Va., of pneumonia which followed an attack of influenza. The body was brought here yesterday afternoon and taken to Demaine's mortuary chapel and it is expected that it will be shipped to New York for burial.

The deceased enlisted several months ago in the engineer corps. He had delighted thousands of soldiers at concerts with his rich baritone voice and was well known among music lovers in Alexandria where he sang at a number of benefits given for the soldiers in different halls in the city.

He also sang at concers in different cities in the east. The deceased was a native of Russia and at one time was a lieutenant in the Imperial Guards, Petrograd.

During his stay at Humphreys he made a host of friends in this city all of whom will regret to hear of his death.

INFLUENZA UNABATED

Reports Indicate Plague Has Not Decreased — Death Rate Continues Heavy—Temporary Hospitals For Patients Being Filled.

The epidemic of influenza here if anything is on the increase. The death rate is increasing daily. Reports of some persons that the epidemic is on decline are absolutely without foundation. The good people of Alexandria, however, are doing everything within their power to check the epidemic and hopes are expressed that soon it may subside.

Every physician in the city continues hard at work looking after the hundreds of patients scattered in every part of the city and also in Alexandria county.

There already are a number of patients in the temporary hospital in the Westminister building and a large number are being treated in the temporary hospital in Christ Church parish hall. Good work already is being done by the influenza committee which has headquarters in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

FRENCH ENTER LAON

La Fere And Greater Part of St. Gobain Massif Also Captured.

With the French Army in France Oct. 14.—Laon was entered by the French troops yesterday.

Marshal Foch sealed his triumph over General Ludendorff and Field Marshal von Hindenburg Saturday when General Gourad's men entered Vouziers in Champagne.

Vouziers is a town of 3,000 inhabitants. It commands two defiles in the forest region eastward, and the significance of the capture arises from the fact that since 1914 it has symbolized German resistance in Northern France. Von Kluck in acknowledging the failure of the plan to take Paris said "but the French will never retake Vouziers." meaning not merely the town of that name, but the entire system of German defense along the Aisne.

But Vouziers has been taken, the line of the Aisne has crumbled and the Hindenburg line has been demolished at several places in this region. The Germans appear thus far to have kept their retreat in hand with the greatest skill.

The French troops not only saved part of the booty of Vouziers that was ready for shipment to Germany but they interrupted the work of destruction throughout the region in the bend of the Aisne, liberating a number of the villages, some of them virtually intact, and freeing about 5,000 civilians from German domination.

The enemy occupied strong positions on the right bank of the Aisne to the east, where he opposed vigorously the efforts of the French to effect a crossing. A passage, however, was forced this morning and a footing gained on the eastern bank.

North of the Oise the enemy appears to be digging in in front of General Debeney's forces.

BOY KILLED BY TRAIN

Cape Charles, Va., Oct. 14.—Percy Guy, 13 years old, son of Mrs. Lola Guy, of Melfa, was killed yesterday morning when he fell beneath the wheels of a freight train on the N. Y. P. and N. railway near Melfa Station. The boy, with several others, was jumping on a freight car while the train was in motion. He missed his footing.

PREPARE SITE FOR PLANT

Contractors Today Razing Buildings on River Front for Big Torpedo Assembling Factory—Which Will Give Employment to 2,000 Skilled Mechanics—Building to Cost Several Million Dollars.

A wrecking crew today started the work of razing the building at the northeast corner of Lee street and Fayette alley on which site the big torpedo assembling plant of the government will be located.

The contract for clearing the grounds has been awarded to Sidney J. Hechinger Housewrecking Company of New York. It is understood that the contract for the erection of the buildings has been awarded to a New York firm.

The plant will cost several million dollars and its erection will be pushed rapidly to completion.

The property on which it will be located is bounded as follows: On the north by the south line of Cameron street, on the west by the east line of North Lee street, on the south by the north line of Fayette alley, and on the east by the Potomac river, same being traversed north and south by North Union street together with all docks and piers on said Potomac river located between the center of Cameron street on the north and the center of Fayette alley on the south.

When this plant is completed it will give employment to 2,000 highly skilled mechanics.

Buildings to be erected will include a four-story reinforced concrete structure extending west and east from Lee street to Union street and, from Union street to the river, and a two story reinforced concrete building, these buildings to extend north and south from Cameron street to Fayette alley.

The first official announcement of the securing for Alexandria this big industry was made in The Gazette September 11. The location of such a plant here will mean that Alexandria's population soon will be doubled and spell prosperity for Alexandria as this institution will be a permanent industry to the many now already located here.

Representative Carlin, Senator Swanson and the Chamber of Commerce worked hard to secure the plant for this city and to them goes the credit for the selection of Alexandria as the site.

She was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Algernon Coleman Chalmers. Mr. Herbert has as his best man Mr. C. S. Taylor Burke. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Herbert left on a wedding trip.

THE BEARER OF THE OLIVE BRANCH.

The red hand that doth slay
Must suffer and must pay.
The black heart deep with wrong
Must feel the fiery thong.
No evil can go forth
To tread men down with hate
And not from souls of wroth
Receive resurgent fate.
Blood-dripping hand held out
And grinning fangs aglow—
Against your plea the battle's shout
Is heard where freemen go;
And Truth no parley gives
With one who comes not whole
In all the higher truth that lives
Alone within the soul.

A contemporary prints a suggestive picture today. The Kaiser with his naturally fierce countenance is extending an olive branch with his left hand. His right is behind him in which he is clutching a bowie knife upon the blade of which are the words "U-boat atrocities.".

After carefully reading the reply of Germany to President Wilson's peace terms we are inclined to adopt the opinions of the great mass of the newspapers of the civilized world that unconditional surrender and the elimination of the Hohenzollerns is the only safe way to deal with the Huns. They have lost the confidece of mankind and there can be no parleys with such people. It is plain that they are endeavoring to save all possible from the wreckage of their military machine which less than a year ago was defying civilization. They selected Force as the instrument to bring about peace. Force must, therefore, settle the dispute.

If, however, Germany is acting in good faith in its answer to President Wilson, then, as Secretary McAdoo says, her acceptance of the President's demands amounts to unconditional surrender. If so, the war is won. It is not worth while to go in fighting for something that we already possess. Obviously the thing to do in these circumstances is to find out whether she is acting in good faith, if what she means by acceptance of the President's terms and what we mean by it are one and the same thing.

Suppose she does not mean what we mean. Suppose her demand is not tantamount to unconditional surrender. What then? The answer to that question is that until we know, until the last vestige of doubt is removed, we must keep our war machinery working at full speed, we must not relax our effort by the fractional part of an inch.

ANOTHER DAY OF FUNERALS

When our heads are bowed with woe,
When our bitter tears o'erflow,
When we mourn the lost, the dear.

There were fourteen open graves in Alexandria cemeteries yesterday most of which contained occupants before sundown. Crape was fluttering from several homes where members had passed away Saturday night and yesterday.

While conditions are far beyond the normal in our city, they are much more serious in other places. A Philadelphia paper states that nearly all people in Camden, N. J., under forty years of age have died. One paper from the city of brotherly love received in this office today contains eleven columns of small type announcing deaths in that place. A Baltimore paper contains five columns, and Washington papers from three to four.

While the situation is said to show a slight improvement in the capital city, the announcement is to the effect that the death rate has increased.

In glancing over the obituary columns it will be seen that the greater number of deaths are of comparatively young people. It has been so in Alexandria. Comparatively young mothers have been severed from helpless children, while many fathers have been marked as targets for the grim destroyer.

Little ones whose mothers have been laid low are huddling around distressed fathers, while mothers are endeavoring to comfort fatherless children.

We live in an anxious age. Peace has long been taken from the earth. Famine has followed in its wake, and now the pale horse and its rider are adding to our distress. Earthquakes are not yet being reported in divers places, but the terrible fruits of the forces of nature in Porto Rico and fires in Wisconsin and Minnesota are among the horrors of our times.

BERLIN ANXIOUS FOR PEACE.

Thousands of workers thronged the streets of Berlin all Saturday night, waiting eagerly for the first "extra" telling of Germany's reply to President Wilson, according to dispatches from the German capital. At 10 o'clock the first "extra" was issued. Hundreds of thousands of copies were snatched up as fast as they were put on the street. The news was received with unbounded enthusiasm, women shedding tears of joy and crying "Thank God peace!"

In conjunction with the above we read of wholesale surrenders upon the part of German soldiers who were under the impression that an armistice had been declared.

There can be no doubt that a large majority of the people of Germany have long since tired of war. They have hungered for years and been taxed beyond measure to keep up militarism, while nearly every household in the empire has been cast in sorrow by the loss of members upon the battlefields.

Naturally they thanked God Saturday night that peace was in sight. But their country will be called upon to do much before the sword shall have been sheathed. They must divorce themselves from the Hohenzollerns who would sacrifice every life and spend their last dollar in order to perpetuate a dynasty which is stinking in the nostrils of the civilized world.

"THE SHADOW OF NICHOLAS"

It is reported from Germany that when the Kaiser goes abroad the people say in low tones, "The shadow of Nicholas." Justice demands that the fate of Nicholas shall be the fate of William. It was William who let loose the Furies in Russia; who procured the revolution that did not stop with dethroning Nicholas, but murdered him, and it is said to have murdered his wife and his son. The fall of the House of Romanoff is upon the Hohenzollern, and equity demands the lex talionis.

Among the gossip that comes out of Germany it is reported that William weeps a great deal, that he spends hours on end in his private chapel in prayer, and that he talks of abdicating, but is restrained by the thought that the Crown Prince would be even more obnoxious to the Allies than he is.

As an exchange says That is true, but it only points the Kaiser to the example of the Czar, who renounced the throne for his son as well as for himself. In this respect his example is more pertinent to William than that of another of his dupes, Ferdinand of Bulgaria. But Boris was not a loud advocate of this war, as the crown Prince was.

The tears and the prayers are probable enough. Remorse may be indicated, or it may be that a mind which was never well balanced, and which has more than once been said to be overturned, has at last given way entirely and reason has been thrown from its seat. The ghosts of Nicholas and the Czarina and the Czarevitch, the ghosts of millions of his own subjects whom he has murdered to advance his own fortunes and increase his own glory, may well send him to his knees in tears, and in outcries of mercy, even if they have not set loose the avenging fury of remorse to murder sleep and make his days a nightmare.

Hock the Kaiser and Buy a Bond.

WHY WE SHOULD BUY LIBERTY BONDS.

The great war has already claimed more than 40,000 American soldiers as casualties. The list will constantly grow larger.

England has lost more than 900,000 troops in killed alone. The German loss in killed has been more than 2,000,000. The French losses have been almost as great.

Statisticians who have made a study of war casualties declare that in killed alone the casualties of all nations, Russians, Serbs, Rumanians, Turks, Austrians, Bulgars and those before mentioned have been more than 10,000,000.

The majority of these men were young. They were the men who would have tilled the fields, worked in the shops and raised the families of tomorrow.

They were the promises, unfulfilled by the mad dream of the brute at Potsdam.

Ten million lives cut off at the time when they were broadening into usefulness to civilization.

Civilization is paying the price and must continue to pay.

But this orgy of bloodshed, of murder and rapine must never be repeated.

It is you who must see that it is not repeated.

OFFICIAL TEXT RECEIVED

Turkey Sends Long Delayed Note Asking for Peace.

Washington, Oct 14.— The official text of the German note replying to President Wilson's interrogations was handed to the Secretary of State this morning by Frederick Oederlin, charge d'affaires of the Swiss legation. It was found to conform to the unofficial version published yesterday.

The President at 10 o'clock summoned Secretary Lansing and Secretary of War Baker to his study in the White House for a conference in which Col. E. M. House also participated. Secretary Baker is just back from the battle fronts of France, Belgium and Italy and from meetings with the premiers of the allied countries and the high commanders of all allied forces.

President Wilson had discussed the unofficial note fully with Col. House who came down from New York, and also with Secretary Lansing, before this morning's conference.

Turkey's long delayed note asking like Germany and Austria, that President Wilson take in hand the restoration of peace was received today at the State Department.

GERMAN PEACE REPLY

Wilson May Demand the Abdication of The Hohenzollern Family Before Terms Can be Considered.

The amazement with which Washington received Saturday night the "German Government's" quick acceptance of President Wilson's suggestions, for peace negotiations was followed yesterday by a strong, but unofficial, opinion that the American Chief Executive, in his reply, will demand as a preliminary precaution the abdication of the Hohenzollern family and the establishment of a form of government in Germany with which the civilized world can treat with the assurance that any promise or covenants entered into by the Central Powers will be faithfully kept.

This conjecture, which had more supporters than any other, does not mean, however, that the President is committed to accept the proposal made by Germany. He made it plain in his reply to Prince Max's overtures a week ago that he was seeking information. He wanted to know with whom he was negotiating. Dr. Solf, the Foreign Secretary, who by the way left off the word "imperial" from his title, says the "German Government" makes the proposals. He does not say who constitutes the German Government with the "imperial" left off.

Therefore, it is pointed out, the door is open for the President, as a further condition to demand that the Hohenzollern family relinquish their throne and their power in Germany before the Allies are willing to consider any terms for peace negotiations or a military armistice.

Whatever may be the conjecture of President Wilson's next move, however, it will not be made until he has consulted with Great Britain, France and Italy, if he has not already done so. Before taking a step of this momentuous character, he will be guided by those countries which have suffered the most from the Hun's warfare. His answer, whatever it may be undoubtedly will reflect the views of those nations, or otherwise there would be a break in the ranks of the Allied nations and nothing would be more satisfactory to Germany, because of her peace offensive would have achieved a victory. No one for one minute suspects that the Allies will be drawn into any such trap.

Sober opinion and discussion did not remove the suspicion which cluster's around Dr. Solf's answer. Everywhere could be heard the comment, "What is Germany up to now? Is she sincere? Does she really want peace, or is she trying to avert the mind of the Allies from their military operations on the Western front?" Therefore, there is a growing belief that there will be no cessation of fighting at present.

Whatever may be the next move on the part of the President, it is expected he will attempt to ascertain what and who constitute the "German government" spoken of by Dr Solf. If the Hohenzollerns are a part of it, then may come the answer that the Kaiser and his tribe must be entirely eliminated, Incidentally there was considerable conjecture in Washington as to the character of the so-called "German government." Striking comment was made because the word "imperial" was lacking. Questions were asked everywhere if it were camouflage to deceive the Allies in bringing about a lull in the fighting so that Germany could readjust her battle lines and save her armies from the encircling forces under General Foch.

APPEAL FROM M'ADOO

Urges Wealthy to Subscribe Liberally to Loan—Only 22,500 Subscribers in Third Loan Who Took in Excess of $10,000 Each and This Should be Doubled in This Loan

Richmond, Va., Oct. 14.—"I stated in a recent address in New York City that there were only 22,500 subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan who took in excess of ten thousand dollars each and emphasized the importance of materially increasing the number of these larger subscriptions in order that the Fourth Liberty Loan might be made a success. I have received reports from every part of the country which indicate that the rural districts are making splendid progress toward the goal but that the cities are lagging behind and that the larger subscriptions are coming in very slowly. In order to accomplish the great task now before us it is absolutely necessary that the men and women of large wealth subscribe liberally to this loan. Congress has granted certain exemptions in regard to the interest on the bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan which makes them a most attractive investment for people of wealth. If such people have not available cash balances sufficient to make large subscriptions they must be persuaded to anticipate future income and borrow from their banks. Now is the time to demonstrate that all classes of American citizens are united in this fight for Liberty and are imbued with a determination to see it to a successful conclusion. As our Boys have pledged their lives let us pledge not only our money in the bank but our credit for this great purpose."

W. G. McADOO.

Since the Fourth Loan is twice as large as the Third, to raise the money will require an equal number of subscriptions practically double in amount or double the number of subscriptions of equal amounts in each case. That is plain. Can we rely upon double the number of subscribers? Notwithstanding the solemn duty resting upon all citizens in this time of national peril and distress, there are hundreds of thousands of people who will not perform their duty and lend to the Government according to their means, even for the preservation of lives and Liberty—God help them!

We shall probably raise the loan by a combination of the two requirements. Those who can, should and must, so great is the need, increase their subscriptions, and more subscribers must obtained.

What the Secretary states with respect to rural communities is not a fact in this District, According to reports. Read the accompanying report That is all the more reason why it should be made a fact.

Liberty Loan Chairmen!

Is there anything you can do to increase the effectiveness of your splendid efforts? As officers of the government call upon all good citizens to come to your aid in behalf of the Country and our great Allies.

The President announces today to all his fellow countrymen that "the time is critical and the response must be complete."

Respectfully,
George J. Seay,
Governor and chairman, Liberty Loan Organization, Fifth Federal Reserve District.

HUNS BELIEVE PEACE TALK

Surrender to British Troopers, Thinking Amistice is on.

With the Anglo-American Forces on the Valenciennes Front, Oct. 14.—The British cavalrymen operating in the main battle area on this front have taken numbers of prisoners who said they were under the impression that an armistice had been signed and that therefore they gave themselves up.

It is evident that the "peace talk" is having its effect in the German army, as many of the enemy are surrendering who otherwise might not. All the German armies are now talking nothing but peace prospects, according to prisoners.

Many of the German officers who have been taken prisoner had their effects all packed ready for a stay in a prison camp.

SEVEN WAR WORK RELIEF AGENCIES JOIN IN DRIVE

Recognized Great Organizations Representing All Creeds and Elements Welded Into One.

$170,500,000 IS THE GOAL.

Plan of War Department to Avoid Waste of Energy and Duplication of Effort Enthusiastically Adopted and Unity Is Achieved.

On November 11 the American people will start a one week's drive to raise the largest amount of money ever given outright by any people in the history of the world.

The drive will be a new thing under the sun. For the first time Protestants, Catholics and Jews, forgetting all their differences, will line up shoulder to shoulder, welding their individual organizations together in their common devotion to the boys in the cantonments and over there. This amalgamation of the seven great agencies engaged in war work is one of the fine developments which have been brought about by the war and under the wise guidance of President Wilson.

The seven organizations which together will make this united appeal are the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council and K. of C., the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army. Each of them will need funds this Fall; each had planned a separate campaign for support. Now, acting on the suggestion of the President's letter of September 5, the seven campaigns will be rolled into one. The American people will be spared the burden of seven separate appeals, and the nation will have an opportunity to demonstrate splendidly that men and women of all creeds at home can work together, as men of all creeds over there are fighting and dying together.

Dr. John R. Mott, whom President Wilson has spoken of as one of the ablest and most useful men of his generation, has been selected Director General of the drive. It is interesting to note that Dr. Mott's name was placed in nomination by John G. Agar of the National Catholic War Council and seconded by Mortimer L. Schiff of the Jewish Welfare Board. The general committee having the campaign in charge contains such well known names as Raymond B. Fosdick, Chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities; George W. Perkins, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the U. S. Steel Corporation; James F. Phelan of Hornblower and Weeks; Honorable Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France; Cleveland K. Dodge, George Gordon Battle, Mrs. Henry P. Davison and Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank.

In every city, county and town the campaign will be in charge of the biggest men of the community.

Together these seven organizations represent a work that is staggering in its proportions. They have more than 15,000 uniformed workers, standing shoulder to shoulder with the boys every step of the way from home to the front line trenches. They operate more than 3,600 buildings and ship 500 tons of supplies to the boys in France every week. Fifteen miles of film set sail for the other side each week under their direction, and the regular weekly attendance of soldiers and sailors at their motion picture shows is more than 2,500,000. The Bibles furnished to the boys since the war broke out would, if piled one on another, make a pile more than twenty miles nigh.

"Morale," said Napoleon, "is as other factors in war as three to one." By which he meant that one man who is kept contented and happy is better than three men who are discouraged and homesick. It is the business of these seven great agencies to help maintain morale. They are keeping up the fine fighting edge of our boys, and by their ministrations helping to put added power into our army and navy and so hasten the hour of victory when they will bring our boys home again.

It is predicted by national leaders that this great victory drive will "go over the top" in a larger way than any campaign that has preceded it.

WHAT GENERAL PERSHING NEEDS

"Give me nine men who have a hut and I will have a more effective fighting force than if I had ten men without it."

—General Pershing.

COAST ARTILLERY SERVICE.

The Editor, Alexandria Gazette:

The public generally do not seem to have a clear understanding of the duties and functions of Coast Artillery in the present war. This corps of the army, in addition to manning the Coast Defenses of the United States, also furnished large quotas of heavy artillery for service in France. The call is urgent and there quotas are being continually sent across. The demand is so great that if the war continues six months longer, it is practically certain that every man, who is physically qualified for overseas service and who joins the Coast Artillery now, will be sent to France for service with the heavy artillery units of the Expeditionary Forces.

In order to secure the services of men who are specially needed, the Chief of Coast Artillery has secured authority from the War Department to specially induct. September 12, registrants of the following classes: candidates for commissions in the Coast Artillery Corps, stenographers, radio operators, electricians, draftsmen, automobile mechanics, cooks and landsmen. It is probable that the privilege of special induction will be granted for a limited time only, because, after a man is once called by his local board for service, he will ordinarily not be allowed to select the arm of the service to which he will be sent.

Officers material is specially desired. Any man between the ages of 18 and 45, who is physically fit for overseas service, is known to be a man of good moral character and who possesses the necessary educational qualifications is eligible for commission as Second Lieutenant in the Coast Artillery Corps. Those men who are inducted with a view to securing commissions are sent for a period varying from one to six weeks to a Coast artillery fort in the vicinity of their home. Here they are given a special training for the purpose of qualifying them to enter the officer candidate school at Fort Monroe, Va., The basic qualifications for admission into the school include a good working knowledge of algebra, up to but not including quadratics, geometry, trigonometry and the use of logarithms. Those who have had training in these subjects, but feel somewhat rusty, will have every opportunity to brush up in the subjects at the fort to which they are sent.

All that is necessary for an aspirant for a commission to do is to send his name and address to the District Adjutant, Fort Totten, N. Y., stating that he (the applicant) desires to become an officer in the Coast Artillery; and, if he has any preference for a fort, to specify the fort to which he would like to be sent.

Men possessing the special trade qualifications listed above (other than aspirants for commission) who desire to be inducted should furnish the following information to the Commanding Officer, Coast Defenses of the Potomac, Fort Washington, Maryland: Full name including middle name, order and serial number, (men who have not yet been classified need give the serial number only); physical qualifications, (general military service, or special and limited service); trade qualifications (having reference to the classes mentioned above); place to which the registrant desires to report for duty; and finally the date on which the applicant registered. As a rule, the applicant will be assigned to the coast defense nearest his home but personal wishes will be considered as far as practicable.

The Coast Defense Command most convenient to the City of Alexandria is The Potomac, Headquarters, Fort Washington, Maryland.

The undersigned is now in command of the Coast Defenses of the Potomac and will be only too glad to do everything in his power to further the interests of those applicants who desire to be inducted at Fort Washington Maryland.

W. E. ELLIS,
Colonel, C. A. C.,
Commanding Coast Defenses of the Potomac.

RUMORS CONFUSE GERMANS

Boche Becomes Panic-Stricken by Changing Orders.

London, Oct. 14.—Rumors of armistice have created an atmosphere of bewilderment among the German troops on the western front. One correspondent with the British forces in the Cambrai sector says the enemy units seemed to be in a state of panic as a result of a multiplicity of conflicting orders.

As an illustration he tells how German prisoners blew up the Scheldt bridges northeast of Cambrai and had barely finished their work when the order was given to rebuild all the bridges. Before they were completed a fresh set of pioneers came along and destroyed them.

The same correspondent tells of transport columns being lost for days supplies were thus sent adrift and supplies were thus sent a drift and the men at the front pressed by the British vanguard left to fight on empty stomachs.

Officers and men among the prisoners have the same appearance of absolute demoralization.

FIVE HUNDRED DEAD

Thousands Homeless by Fire in Northern Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 14.—With probably 500 persons dead, thousands homeless and without clothing, and with property damage mounting far into millions of dollars, whole sections of northern Wisconsin and Minnesota timberland last night were smouldering, fire stricken areas with only the charred ruins of abandoned, depopulated towns to accentuate the general desolation.

The bodies of 75 victims lie in Duluth morgues. Hundreds more along the roads leading to Duluth and Superior lay where they fell when overtaken by the fire.

Twelve thousand homeless and penniless refugees, all in need, more or less, of medical attention are quartered in hospitals, churches, schools, private homes and in the army here, while doctors and nurses sent from surrounding communities attend them, and nearly every ablebodied man in the city has been conscripted to fight the flames which now are reported to be dying away.

Reports that the holocaust resulted from the work of enemy agents are circulated here. Definite confirmation was not available but incendiaries were driven away from a local shipyard when the fires in Duluth and Superior were burning at their height, according to F. J. Longran, fire marshal, and other city and State officials

NEWS OF THE DAY

Gustave Herve, the former revolutionary writes in La Victoria of Paris: "The Dutch authorities feel that the German Flanders armies are sufficiently exposed to warrant a massing of Dutch troops along Holland's frontiers prepared to capture and disarm those that may flee across the border.

"Since September 15, including the Bulgaro-German troops surrendered according to the armistice" A French War Office statement says "the allies have captured 90,000 prisoners, including 1,600 officer. Among the officers are five generals. Two thousand guns and enormous quantities of material also have been taken."

An American boy working with the French artillery on the Champagne front, and who has been twice decorated says in a private letter to a friend in Paris: "We are still very busy in spite of the Germans demanding an armistice. We will give him an armistice after knocking hell out of him and not before."

Darmstadt has a lynching society of forty-five members which takes it upon itself to punish food hogs. Six of its members beat into unconsciousness with clubs a man who had hoarded a quantity of eggs, bacon and potatoes.

Of the first 20,000 prisoners taken by the British in their recent offensive, a check-up now shows that about ninety per cent of them had in their pockets some of the allied propaganda literature, dropped behind the German lines by airplanes.
